

Understanding My Progress

My Progress is a powerful tool that you can use to view and print your degree program and explore other programs. My Progress allows you to see the courses you have completed towards your program (degree, diploma, certificate) and it shows you the courses you still need to take. My Progress also allows you to see how the credit you have already earned will apply to another program here at Wilkes Community College. You will find below a legend explaining how to read and understand My Progress.

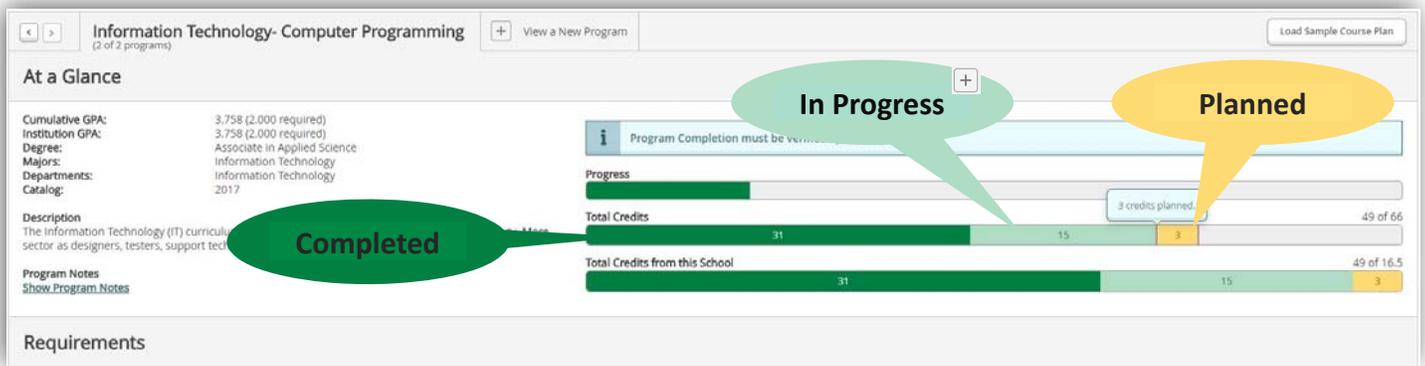

At the top of the screen you will see your progress in the At a Glance section. This section will provide you with your cumulative and institutional GPA, along with information about the program of study you are in, such as the programs description.

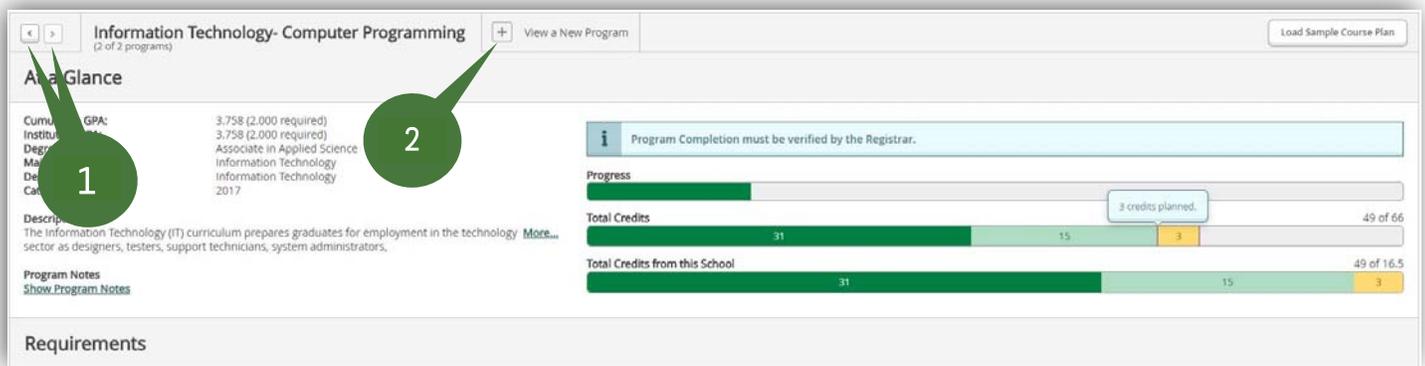

In this section you will also find three progress bars. The first bar (1) shows your total progress towards the completion of your program. The second bar (2) shows the total number of credits you have earned towards the completion of your program. The third bar (3) shows the total number of credits you have earned here at Wilkes community College.

On the bottom two bars you will notice that there are three different colors showing. The dark green is all the credits you have completed towards your program. The light green is all the credits in progress (currently taking), and the yellow is all the credits that you have planned to take.

If you are enrolled in more than one program, use the arrow buttons (1) in the upper left-hand corner to move between your programs. If you would like to see how your credits would apply to another program here at Wilkes Community College, click on the button (2) on the View a New Program tab. For further instruction on how to see how your credits would apply to another program, please see the How to View a New Program document.

Below the At a Glance section is the Requirements section. The Requirements section provides you with a list of all the classes you need to take to complete the program. In the requirements section you will have one or more main requirements sections (1). Each main requirement section can have one or more sub-sections (2).

The screenshot shows the 'General Education Requirements' section. A callout labeled '1' points to the main requirement header 'General Education Requirements'. A callout labeled '2' points to the sub-section header 'A. Communication'. Below the sub-section header, there is a table of courses with columns for Status, Course, Grade, Term, and Credits.

Status	Course	Grade	Term	Credits
In-Progress	ENG-111 Writing and Inquiry		2018SP	3
Registered	ENG-112 Writing/Research in the Disc		2018FA	3

Under each sub-section you see how many credits (1) you need to take from the list of classes (2) provided.

This is another view of the same 'General Education Requirements' section. Callout '1' points to the main requirement header, and callout '2' points to the sub-section header 'A. Communication'. The table below shows the same list of courses as in the first screenshot.

Status	Course	Grade	Term	Credits
In-Progress	ENG-111 Writing and Inquiry		2018SP	3
Registered	ENG-112 Writing/Research in the Disc		2018FA	3

Listed in each sub-section is the list of approved courses for that section in a table format. The table shows the status (1) of the class, the course number and name (2), the grade (3) you received in the course, the term (4) you took the course in, or will be taking the course in, and the number of credits (5) for that course.

Detailed description: This screenshot shows the 'General Education Requirements' page. A callout bubble with the number '1' points to the completion status '0 of 4 Completed' and 'Fully Planned' for the Communication section. Below this, a table lists courses with columns for Status, Course, Grade, Term, and Credits. The first row shows 'ENG-111 Writing and Inquiry' as 'In-Progress' for 3 credits in 2018SP. The second row shows 'ENG-112 Writing/Research in the Disc' as 'Registered' for 3 credits in 2018FA.

In the table under each section, you can click on the course number (1) or you can click the Search button (2) to view the courses in the course catalog. Once in the catalog, you can view the course description, view the available sections, and add the course and sections to your schedule for registration. For more information on registering for courses, see the How to Register document.
